Agenda—The Patrol Method

- What is it?
- Why do we use it?
- How do we make it happen?
- Questions and sharing.

What is it?

- Quotes from Robert Baden-Powell, Scouting's founder:
 - "Scouting puts the boys into fraternity gangs which is their natural organization whether for games, mischief, or loafing."
 - "The Patrol system is the one essential feature in which Scout training differs from that of all other organizations."
 - "The object of the Patrol Method is not so much saving the Scoutmaster trouble as to give responsibility to the boy."

What is it?

- Quotes from Robert Baden-Powell, Scouting's founder:
 - "The Patrol Method is not a way to operate a Boy Scout Troop, it is the only way. Unless the Patrol Method is in operation you don't really have a Boy Scout Troop."

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA
100 YEARS OF SCOUTING

What is it?

- A small group of boys (6-8):
 - Similar in age, development, interests, geography
 - A Scout's "family circle"
 - A shared sense of belonging
 - Mutual caring and identification
 - Loyalty
 - A classroom, teaching
 - citizenship
 - leadership
 - Co-dependency
 - Teamwork
 - responsibility
 - Many more things...

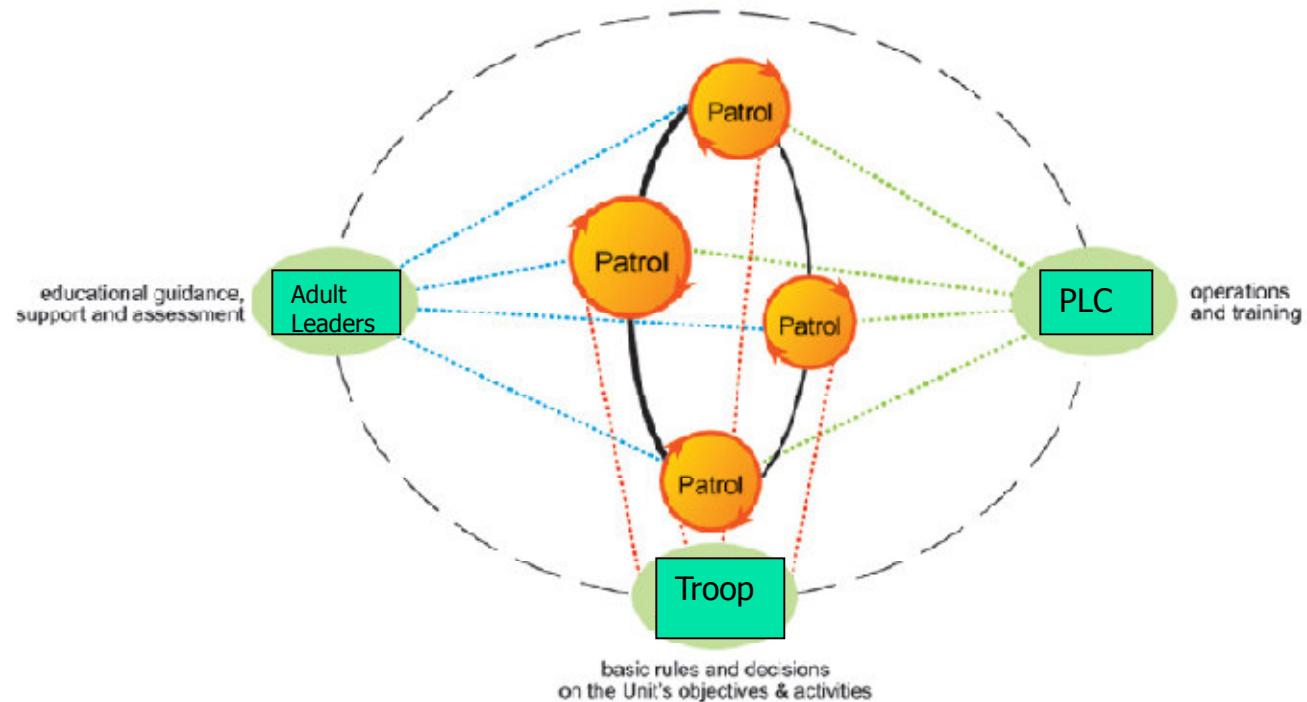

What is it?

- One of the Methods of Scouting:
 1. The Ideals
 2. The Patrol Method
 3. The Outdoors
 4. Advancement
 5. Association with Adults
 6. Personal Growth
 7. Leadership Development
 8. The Uniform

What is it?

- Where it fits in scouting?
 - As the foundation and core!

Why do we use it?

- Organize the mechanisms of the informal peer group into a learning community
- Learn by doing
- To foster spirit and comradery
- Teach citizenship and leadership
- NOT as a simple system of small group operation

Why do we use it?

- Robert Baden-Powell:

“The Patrol system has great character-training value if it is used right. It leads each boy to see that he has some individual responsibility for the good of the Patrol. It leads each Patrol to see that it has definite responsibility for the good of the Troop... Through it the Scouts themselves gradually learn that they have considerable say in what their Troop does. It is the Patrol system that makes the Troop, and all Scouting for that matter, a real co-operative effort.”

“In a sense, we offer a simulation or a microcosm of life in larger communities or societies and of what is meant by being an active and responsible citizen.”

CELEBRATING THE ADVENTURE
CONTINUING THE JOURNEY

How do we make it happen?

- Form Patrols (Ideal size 6-8 Scouts)
- Types of Patrols:
 - New Scout Patrols—11 year olds who recently joined
 - Regular Patrols—Scouts having completed First Class (usually after first year in the Troop)
 - Venture Patrols—Optional Patrol of 13+ year old Scouts with maturity and experience for more high-adventure outings

How do we make it happen?

- Form Patrols (Ideal size 6-8 Scouts)
- Elect a Patrol Leader (recommended 2X a year)
- "Celebrate" their election

Patrol Leader's Promise Ceremony

When the proper time comes, the new Patrol Leader's election to office should be announced before the Troop with an appropriate ceremony, along the following general lines:

- 1. The Troop is formed in a circle with the members of the Troop Leaders' Council [Patrol Leader's Council] in the center.
- 2. The Scoutmaster tells the Troop in a few words of the importance of good Patrol Leadership and announces the appointment of Scout _____ as the the new Patrol Leader of So-and-So Patrol.
- 3. Scout _____ is called forward. He places his left hand on the pole of the Troop flag, above that of the Scoutmaster, salutes, and recites the Patrol Leader's Promise: "I promise to do my best to be worthy of my office as Patrol Leader, for the sake of my fellow Scouts, my Patrol and my Troop."
- 4. The Scoutmaster pins the Patrol Leader's Badge on the boy's left sleeve, presents to him a Patrol Leader Handbook, and the youngest member of the Patrol presents him with the Patrol flag.
- 5. A Junior Leader leads the Troop in a cheer for the new Patrol Leader, who thereupon steps back into his Patrol, where he is greeted by another cheer from his own Scouts.

Patrol Leader's Promise

As the Leader of My Patrol:

- I WILL lead my Patrol by my initiative and my personal example, in Scoutcraft knowledge as well as in Scout Spirit.
- I WILL plan, with my Scouts, the Patrol's activities--meetings, hikes, Good Turns, special projects--and will carry them out to the best of my ability.
- I WILL train my Assistant Patrol Leader to lead the Patrol in my absence, and give each of the other Scouts a chance to do some leading in the Patrol.
- I WILL keep well ahead of my Patrol in advancement, and will help my Scouts to advance by training them and examining them in Scout Requirements.
- I WILL set an example for my Patrol by wearing my Scout Uniform at all Scout activities, and will urge my Scouts to do the same.
- I WILL be responsible for the routine business of the Patrol attendance, dues, and the like--but will get some other Patrol member to keep the records.
- I WILL make a special effort to be a friend to each Scout of my Patrol, and to know his home, his parents, his school or work, so that I may truly be able to help him.

Ten Tips for Being a Good Patrol Leader

- Keep Your Word. Don't make promises you can't keep.
- Be Fair to All. A good leader shows no favorites. Don't allow friendships to keep you from being fair to all members of your patrol. Know who likes to do what, and assign duties to patrol members by what they like to do.
- Be a Good Communicator. You don't need a commanding voice to be a good leader, but you must be willing to step out front with an effective "Let's go." A good leader knows how to get and give information so that everyone understands what's going on.
- Be Flexible. Everything doesn't always go as planned. Be prepared to shift to "plan B" when "plan A" doesn't work.
- Be Organized. The time you spend planning will be repaid many times over. At patrol meetings, record who agrees to do each task, and fill out the duty roster before going camping.

Ten Tips for Being a Good Patrol Leader

- Delegate. Some leaders assume that the job will not get done unless they do it themselves. Most people like to be challenged with a task. Empower your patrol members to do things they have never tried.
- Set an Example. The most important thing you can do is lead by example. Whatever you do, your patrol members are likely to do the same. A cheerful attitude can keep everyone's spirits up.
- Be Consistent. Nothing is more confusing than a leader who is one way one moment and another way a short time later. If your patrol knows what to expect from you, they will more likely respond positively to your leadership.
- Give Praise. The best way to get credit is to give it away. Often a "Nice job" is all the praise necessary to make a Scout feel he is contributing to the efforts of the patrol.
- Ask for Help. Don't be embarrassed to ask for help. You have many resources at your disposal. When confronted with a situation you don't know how to handle, ask someone with more experience for some advice and direction.

Patrol Leader Training

- Introduction to Leadership
 - This is the first step of leadership training. It is usually conducted by the Scoutmaster within a few days after a troop election. It may last no more than an hour, but it should cover the responsibilities of a patrol leader and the needs for upcoming events within the troop.
- Troop Junior Leader Training
 - This is a daylong training conference conducted by the Scoutmaster and senior patrol leader. Its purpose is to reinforce the patrol method and to allow members of the patrol leaders' council to set goals for themselves, their patrols, and their troop.
- Council Junior Leader Training
 - Many councils offer weeklong junior leader training conferences at their camps for key troop leaders. This course supplements troop training and introduces leadership skills in an outdoor environment.
- National Junior Leader Instructor Camp
 - This program focuses on helping Scouts develop teaching skills that they can use to conduct council junior leader training conferences. It is offered through the Philmont Training Center every summer.
- National Leadership Seminars
 - These Order of the Arrow leadership seminars take place over a weekend and focus primarily on the skills and attributes of leadership. Youth participants should be at least 15 years of age or a lodge officer.
